Who's it for

All PCS member aged 27 or under, based in London and the South East,

With the consultative ballot on the future of our campaign now underway, we will take stock of progress across our branches and discuss how to drive ballot turnout to ensure all members get a say.

We will also be joined by an economist (and PCS Young Member) who will be debunking the myth that public sector pay rises cause inflation.

An update will be provided on the recent activity of the National Young Members' Committee, as well as further information on the not to be missed upcoming PCS Young Members' Seminar, which will this year be held in Newcastle.

This is likely to be the final meeting held by the current London and South East Young Members Committee, with a new committee being elected in October after the Seminar (further information will be provided in the coming weeks). Please join us to reflect on all we have achieved together in the past year, and to look forward at where we want to go next.

We will have a hybrid meeting with a room at the Civil Service Club in Whitehall and a screen for virtual attendees. Please register your interest by completing our online form . We will then send out meeting venue information and the Zoom link.

We encourage any PCS member aged 27 or under, based in London and the South East, to attend.
