Who's it for

All members in London and the Southeast and Eastern regions

Register now for London and south east region's August Pay Day event where we will be launching our new regional campaign.

The event will include speeches from keyworkers who are currently in dispute, representatives from each of the L&SE equality networks and a presentation of our new campaign Proud to be a Keyworker: Proud to be a Trade Unionist.

The reasoning and aims of the campaign will be explained, you will see the new materials available and hear how you can get involved and of the events already planned. We want this to be a campaign that all members can get behind so please encourage your colleagues to register and be part of this launch event .

This is a virtual meeting via Zoom; please register for the event by following the link below. Once you have registered a calendar invite will be sent to you with the Zoom joining instructions.
