Sign Up for PCS Academy courses - new Prospectus out today

Get involved in PCS by registering for our union learning opportunities; the Prospectus gives details of each course.

Today (25) we have published the fourth edition of the PCS Academy Course Prospectus.

Some of our short trade union education courses are available to all members to apply, with priority given to applications from PCS reps, or members who intend to be actively involved in the union.

And for the first time, the prospectus also include details of other learning opportunities for members, as well as union education for reps. Branches can apply to the Branch Learning Fund for sessions to be delivered in the workplace. There are also a number of national sessions delivered which members can apply for directly.

All upcoming PCS course dates (trade union education for reps and a range of short “national” learning sessions for members) can be found on our courses page. Application is accessed via our online registration process. In order to complete a course registration, you will need to be registered for PCS Digital.
