

22 February 2024

PCS Front Line

Welcome to Frontline, the journal for PCS members in the Home Office group. This edition features articles on changes to employment law which may affect you and some background to the industrial action ballot at Heathrow.

In this issue

Minimum Service Levels: a transparent attempt to remove your right to strike

Vice president Pete Wright discusses the introduction of anti-union Minimum Service Levels legislation.

Members in the PCS Home Office group based at Heathrow airport ballot for strike action

Group secretary Mike Jones explains why Heathrow members are being balloted.

Changes in employment law that may benefit women

Rebecca Hunter provides an overview of changes in employment law to mark International Women's Day.

Does the Home Office deserve its Disability Confident Leadership status?

Jordan David shares some concerning statistics about how disabled employees are treated in the department.