

26 April 2024

OR&CLE National Campaign 2024 ballot special issue

News for members in the Revenue and Customs group.

In this issue:

From your President

Lorna Merry, on why posting back your ballot paper is the way to win our National Campaign on fair pay, pensions and job security. Read more

Editorial

Claire Keenan on why your union needs you to fight back. Read more

Restoring fair pay

Marianne Owens, your lead negotiator on pay, sets out what's gone wrong and how to get it fixed. Read more

Fighting for job security and public services

Colette Smith, your lead Customer Service Group negotiator, examines the Public Accounts Committee's critical report of HMRC. Read more

PCS going all the way on pensions

Martin John, PCS's pension lead, updates you on PCS's battles with the government on pensions. Read more

It's in your own hands

Only by posting back your ballot paper will we win our National Campaign. Read more

Young members

Louis Radforth, your Young Members' Advisory Committee chair, urging all Young Members to fight for the future of PCS. Read more

Branch organisers; the heart of the branch

Hear how your organisers are getting ballot ready, recruiting, and networking.

Read more

PCS overseas

Cathy Darcan, GEC member, represents PCS at the Irish Congress of Trade Unions. Read more

Fighting for equality in PCS

Julia McMurray and Nicola Ridler, your Group Women's Advisory Committee chairs, look back on the invaluable work being carried out for members. Read more

Signing up our cleaners, security staff

Ian Lawther, your lead negotiator on Facilities Management staff, encouraging branches to sign up your FM colleagues. Read more

Branch advocates

Welcoming new members and getting them active in PCS. Read more